More value to your ideas

PACKAGE AND CONTAINERIZED SYSTEMS

Monteco, present on the market since 1995, is an innovative Company in the panorama Oil&Gas, Power, Marine e Environmental for the realization in contract basis of systems, basically focused to conditioning and boost of process fluid (crude oil, fuel oil, natural gas), to treatment, purification (heavy oil, waters, sludge) and heat recovery.

More than 20 years of experience in designing, qualified welding and Skid manufacturing, that has allowed to the Company to further develop itself and to support its customers in the research of more and more complex solutions and optimized in terms of costs and implementation programs.

Containerized systems

Solutions of containerized systems know for some years an increasing request because they help to reduce activities on site, maximizing the level of pre-building, exploiting the higher yields and quality of manufacturing get in the workshop. Containerized solutions are besides advantageous when customers offer services of "Utilities and Power Rental", where the immediate availability of the plans and the rapidity of installation represent the turning keys to have a competitive advantage.

The workflow starts with the planning

The designing of the systems is completely developed by the internal engineering team, laying the solutions accordingly to the customer specifications. The layout is carefully designed with the 3D modeling, starting from a simple idea until the realization of as built draws. The positioning of every component or structure is verified by simulating the presence of the operators, as moving for operations and maintenance. All this integrating, since the early stages of the project, the requirements of construction and installation.

Manufacturing, assembling and testing

All the activities, starting by designing, purchasing managing or materials received by the customer till manufacturing operations given to our highly specialized workers, are monitored by the last generation of ERP, that let's to supervisor every step of the order, till the delivery.

As the manufacturing is over, all the systems are then tested, also with the presence of external Body Certification, through the use of similar fluids to those of process. This kind of approach lets to obtain an higher reliability and closer to reality values than the normal simulated tests, which may also allow the execution of training sessions for the customer's operators.

Focus on the Customers

Each order represents a challenge that Monteco has been gathering for 20 years in the research of the best solution for the customer. Our value is to give shape to the ideas and to the designing developed by customers, adding all our experience of managing and logistic capabilities. This allows to us to work in close partnership with customers to realize better and better the specifications of each project with every possible optimization.
